

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XXIV.

ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 27, 1892.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

RINGING TRUTH.

General Stevenson's Splendid Presentation of the Campaign Issue.

A GREAT MEETING AT BROOKLYN.

The Force Bill and What It Means to the Country.

CLEVELAND AND HIS BUFFALO FRIENDS.

The Buffalonians Give Him a Reception and He Talks of Old Times—Jerry Simpson's Latest.

NEW YORK, OCTOBER 20.—The democracy of Brooklyn turned out in full tonight and held a great mass meeting in the Academy of Music, where General Adlai E. Stevenson, vice presidential candidate, and Congressman Rayner, of Maryland, spoke on the issues of the campaign. Over 4,000 people, many of whom were ladies, were crowded in the spacious amphitheater, and nearly 500 prominent democratic citizens occupied seats on the stage. Among these were Hugh McLaughlin, the leader of the Kings County democracy; Judge Jacob, new mayor, David A. Body, District Attorney James W. Ridgeway, Joseph C. Hendrix, Congressman Thomas F. Magnus and Felix Campbell.

Thomas E. Pearsall, chairman of the committee of arrangements in calling the meeting to order, said that the democracy of Brooklyn was thoroughly in earnest in its determination to roll an unprecedented majority on November 8th for the standard bearers of the national democracy. He then introduced as chairman of the meeting, Mayor Body. He spoke on the leading issues of the campaign and then introduced, in eulogistic terms, the orator of the evening, Adlai E. Stevenson. General Stevenson received an ovation as he stepped forward to deliver his speech, the great audience rising to its feet, waving handkerchiefs and wildly cheering.

Mr. Stevenson's speech was an able presentation of the issues in the campaign. After discussing the tariff and coinage questions, he passed to discussion of the force bill, saying:

"To arrive 100 gross tons of metal top, Mason's improvements, good, 1000 feet and half yards; also fixtures for all the above, including 1-3 and 1-3 fractions, steel rods, iron rods of all kinds in 100 feet. Also boots and shoes, 100 pairs; and articles of other goods we have, such as iron, metal stock of flat wire, and porter on hand; also barrels of stores. Terms cash."

"This legislation, my fellow citizens, is devised in a spirit of hate. Can it be possible that the American people can consent to the enactment of laws hostile to the spirit of our institutions? Legislation which savors only of vengeance, and the successful operation of which will result in the loss of millions of dollars and bring in its train untold horrors? Can it be that the hands and feet of all receive their appointments under federal authority? The people, the source of all political power under our constitution, have no voice in the selection of those who, under the monstrous provisions of this bill, can sport at will with their dearest rights?"

"Since my nomination I have been in eight southern and southeastern states of the union and have talked with men of all classes and conditions there. I find great and growing opposition to the bill, which it is believed would result from the passage of the Lodge bill or similar threatening legislation in the southern capital during the Cleveland administration in a languishing condition, and that the immigration of labor and capital, which was stimulated by the present peaceful condition had in a large measure ceased. The enactment of the threatened force bill would, at which it is aimed, would excite in many communities race troubles and would interfere with legislation for the protection of the value of real and personal property and destroy the value of northern investments, and its effect on north and northwestern states would be to render them less attractive to investment and trade relations with a vast territory now becoming tributary to their wealth and prosperity."

"I say nothing now of the inherent vice of the un-American and revolutionary spirit involved in the Lodge bill. I have announced to the southern senator the most infamous that ever crossed the threshold of the senate, an appeal to the sense of justice of the people to a sense of common justice in the American people. The era of good feeling and renewed commercial relations with the south is over. Mr. Cleveland in 1884 should not be interrupted by a political party which seeks to destroy popular representation in the senate. The self-government, which furnishes an instrument to discredited federal power to perpetuate itself, which seeks to keep the south in a state of dependence, which threatens important commercial interests, which offers no excuse or palliation for its existence, and which is in power, is a political party which has lost public confidence."

Mr. Stevenson's speech was received with great enthusiasm throughout.

A RECEPTION TO GROVER.

His Old Friends of Buffalo Meet Him in New York.

New York, October 26.—The reception given at the Imperial hotel tonight to President Cleveland by the Buffalonians of Cleveland was attended by about two hundred members of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:

"I can only call you to order and plunge into disorder which usually reigns during the course of a social gathering, for such a one is this."

Some time ago this club received an application for membership from our guest, Mr. Cleveland, accompanied by his wife, and I was constrained to first to return the money and lay the matter before the club. The president of the club, Mr. Andrew H. Hayes, and John Clifton, vice-president Charles F. Bishop, mayor of Buffalo; and Editor Norman E. Black of Buffalo.

On the arrival of the assemblage to order, Mr. Hayes said:</p

THE OLD OFFICERS

HOLD, TOM WATSON!

Were Re-elected at the Meeting of the Grand Lodge of Masons.

THE CONSTITUTION AT THE FAIR

News in the Masons—The Georgia Southern Again—A Queer Surgical Operation—Local and Personal.

Marion, Ga., October 26.—(Special)—The election of officers of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the state of Georgia took place this morning with a full attendance of delegates present.

All the old officers were reelected and the officers of the Grand Lodge for the year are:

Grand Master, Most Worshipful John S. Davidson.

Deputy Grand Master, Right Worshipful James M. Rushin.

Senior Grand Warden, Right Worshipful Reuben Jones.

Junior Grand Warden, Right Worshipful John P. Shannon.

Grand Treasurer, Right Worshipful W. B. Daniel.

Grand Secretary, Right Worshipful Andrew M. Wohlin.

Grand Chaplain, Reverend and Worshipful W. R. Hubert.

Senior Grand Deacon, Worshipful R. B. Nisbet.

Junior Grand Deacon, Worshipful W. T. Kenney.

Grand Marshal, Worshipful W. R. Parkhurst.

First Grand Steward, Worshipful R. T. Kendrick.

Second Grand Steward, Worshipful B. F. Thurman.

Third Grand Steward, Worshipful T. L. Sims.

Grand Tyler, Brother Charles W. Freeman.

The committees for the ensuing year were also appointed this morning and will meet this afternoon.

The session this evening will be of a social nature and with the exception of a few to whom special leave of absence has been granted, will be attended by the whole number of delegates present. Among the delegations to the Grand Lodge this year is Mr. O. G. Cheves, of Montevideo, Uruguay, subscriber to The Atlanta Constitution in Macon county. Mr. Cheves says that when he first subscribed to The Constitution in 1869, his paper came in a single paper, but that now it is a Constitution and possibly double the circulation of any paper that comes to Montevideo.

A HUMANITY.

Mr. S. M. Coburn, night operator at the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad, met with a serious accident last night and the consequences of his mishap made up a curious story.

About 8 o'clock Mr. Coburn was going to his office walking along the railroad track. Nearly opposite the ice house, in crossing a trestle his foot slipped and he fell. His right arm struck the cross tie and was fractured. Dr. W. C. Green was called in and found that it was a double compound fracture and that he would have to take the bone out. This he did, extracting entirely the elbow joint and several inches above and below, in all about eight inches of bone.

At the doctor's office, as ever, the doctor felt his patient's pulse on the wrist and when the connection was made the pulse was good and strong.

Dr. Gibson was assisted in this difficult operation by Dr. O. Mathis. Mr. Coburn will in all probability, be able to use his hand and shoulder again, as the power of the wrist muscles is not entirely gone.

CONSTITUTION AT THE PARK.

The Macon bureau of The Constitution has established an office in the president's office at the park by the courtesy of President Waddell and the officers of the society. A special wire runs direct from The Constitution office at Central City park to the Constitution building in Atlanta and a thorough news service on all matters connected with the state fair will be furnished through the columns of The Constitution.

Visitors to the fair are invited to call at The Constitution office on the grounds.

Mashed to a Jelly.

Sawyer Ross, a negro, was crushed to death this morning by falling earth on the line of the Central railroad about three miles from Macon.

The workmen were engaged getting out dirt and had undermined several tons of earth when the top gave way. All escaped but Ross, who was caught between the falling earth and one of the trucks. He was literally mashed into a jelly.

The owner of the jury absolved the road from all blame.

The Georgia Southern.

Under a special who received from Baltimore this morning The Macon Evening News says that the Georgia Southern and Florida bondholders met this morning. Three million dollars worth of bonds were represented. The bondholders confirmed the official action of foreclosure by the trustee, Mr. W. C. Green, who is a partner of Harman and Rice, of New York, Shaw, Gresham and Fisher, of Baltimore, Smart, of Savannah, and Watkins, of Richmond. A committee to represent the bondholders was appointed and the question of receiver-ship was left with this committee.

Local and Personal.

An attractive show has been fixed up in the hall of the First Baptist church for the purpose of raising funds to build a primary Sunday school room. These funds will be spent entirely at reasonable rates. Tomorrow all the money will be spent.

On Sunday, October 23, a court was held at the Macon County Courthouse, in Macon, to hear the case of the negro, Tom Watson, who was accused of having attempted to rape a woman.

Watson, John A. Cobb, of Americus in Macon last night, Captain Cobb is making a vigorous fight for the mayorship of Americus.

His chances of success are bright.

Dr. W. G. Godwin, of Americus, Walter L. Lunn and Captain McAlpin of Savannah, have just returned from a most enjoyable fish-hunting trip.

Judge J. B. Estes, of Gainesville, a distinguished jurist of north Georgia, in Macon.

Judge Estes thinks of locating permanently in Macon.

DR. PRICE'S DELICIOUS Flavoring Extracts

NATURAL FRUIT FLAVORS.

Of great purity—

Of great strength—

Of great flavor—

Flavor as delicious

as the fruit itself.

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

For product of the seed—

For product of the fruit—

For product of the flower—

For product of the leaf—

For product of the root—

For product of the bark—

THE CONSTITUTION.

PUBLISHED DAILY, SUNDAY AND WEEKLY.
The Daily, per year $ 6.00
The Sunday (26 to 30 Pages) 2.00
The Sunday and Sunday, per year 8.00
The Sunday and Sunday (12 to 16 Pages) 1.00
All Editions Sent Postpaid to any address.
At these reduced rates all subscriptions must be paid in advance.

Contributors must keep copies of articles. We do not undertake to return rejected MSS., and will do so under no circumstances unless accompanied by postage.

12 CENTS PER WEEK

For THE DAILY CONSTITUTION, or 50 cents per calendar month. Sixteen cents per week for THE DAILY AND SUNDAY CONSTITUTION, or 67 cents per calendar month; delivered to any address by car or in the city of Atlanta. Send in your name at once.

NICHOLS & HOLLOWAY,
Eastern Advertising Agents.
Address, CONSTITUTION BUILDING, Atlanta, Ga.

Where to Find The Constitution.

THE CONSTITUTION can be found for sale as follows:

New York—Brentano's, No. 5 Union Square.

Fifth Avenue Hotel News Stand.

Cincinnati—J. K. Hawley, 162 Vine street.

Washington—Metropolitan Hotel.

ATLANTA, GA., October 27, 1892.

The Legislature Organized.

The general assembly prepared itself for business yesterday by electing its officers.

The senate chose as its president the Hon. Steve Clay, of Cobb, who represents the thirty-fifth district. Mr. Clay had no opposition, and his election is an evidence not only to his personal popularity, but of the impression he has made on the public men with whom he has been associated. He has been speaker of the house, and has all the parliamentary knowledge and experience necessary to make a capable presiding officer. He will fill the place with exceptional dignity and ability. Mr. Clay is a man of the people. His career shows how much may be accomplished by a young man of energy and ability who has the will to succeed.

The house selected Hon. W. Y. Atkinson, of Coweta, to preside over its deliberations, and the selection is a good one. Mr. Atkinson not only has large legislative experience—he is now serving his fourth term in the house—but he has the executive ability which will enable him to direct and further the business of the house, and successfully manage a body that is so large as sometimes to be almost unwieldy. Mr. Atkinson's skill as an organizer has just been made manifest in a way as surprising as it was satisfactory. We refer to the result of the recent state election, which grew out of the skillful management of Mr. Atkinson as chairman of the state democratic committee. His duties as chairman involved grave responsibilities and called into play a wonderful amount of energy and experience. The result of Mr. Atkinson's work goes deeper than the result of the state election. The democratic party is ~~left~~ with the most thorough organization it is known in Georgia, and it is now thoroughly equipped for hard service.

Hon. William A. Wilson, of Sumter, was elected president pro tem. of the senate, and he will fill the position with ability. Mr. Wilson has been vice president of the state alliance, and for some time was acting president. He is not now and has never been less a democrat because he is an alliance man. He has stood by the party, and it was due largely to his example and influence that the alliance of Georgia refused to go into the third party.

Hon. W. H. Fleming, of Augusta, who was Mr. Atkinson's competitor for the speakership, demonstrated sufficient strength to testify to his popularity, and he loses nothing by his candidacy, or by his withdrawal. He is a young man of intellect and ability, and he has made a splendid member of the house. He has claims on the party that the people are sure to recognize. He will play a most important part in the proceedings of the present legislature.

Hon. John T. Boileau, of Bibb, was made speaker pro tem. of the house. He has done the state considerable service, not only as a legislator, being an old member of the house, but as a journalist. He is the editor of The Macon Telegraph, and has been on The Constitution's staff. In whatever position he has been placed, he has served the people and the democratic party, with signal ability, and his election as speaker pro tem. of the house is a deserved recognition of his merit.

Hon. Paul B. Trammell, of Whitfield, who was speaker pro tem. of the last house, could have had his old place, but he was not a candidate. He has done splendid service for the state, and will add to his record in that respect. He is one of the most experienced legislators of the present body, having been a senator, then a clerk in both branches of the general assembly and afterwards the speaker pro tem. of the house.

The legislature starts off splendidly officered.

Suggested by the Occasion.

The assembling of a new legislature naturally recalls the work of the previous body, and as it has been the subject of more or less criticism, it is proper at this time to speak of the matter in the impartial fashion suited to events which are now a part of our history.

At one time there was a disposition on the part of many good citizens to censure the majority of the last general assembly because it defeated the Confederate Home bill. The opinions of our people in regard to this measure have probably undergone no change, but in our more extended survey of the situation it must strike every thoughtful mind that the work of the last session was doubtless of greater benefit to the state than anything that has been given to us in a legislative way since the adoption of the present constitution.

Take the four constitutional amendments adopted at the recent election.

Under the new system of annual sessions limited to fifty days, the state will save hundreds of thousands of dollars in a few years. Then the amendment concerning the granting of charters will take an immense mass of business from the legislature and dispose of it much more safely, more expeditiously and in a decidedly less expensive manner. This means the saving of many thousands of dollars to the people of Georgia every year.

We do not think that a single session of the legislature since the war has accomplished more for the cause of economic reform than was done by the last session. It is gratifying, also, to note the fact that the members of the new assembly represent constituents who are in thorough sympathy with the work of their predecessors on this line. Their time will be somewhat limited, but under the new conditions they will be able to accomplish within fifty days as much as was formerly done in the entire session of a hundred days or more.

The people's lawmakers who met here yesterday have assembled under the most favorable auspices. They are, in the main, men of high character and ability, and Georgia looks to them for many important reforms.

Is Kipling a Boor?

The Boston Advertiser has an article on "R. Kipling, Boor." The trouble with Kipling seems to be that he has views of his own, and is not in a hurry to cater to American conceit.

A few days ago the editor of a daily—we presume it was a New York daily—detailed reporter to interview Kipling at his home in Brattleboro, Vt. Kipling declined to be interviewed in language more forcible than polite, and refused to give any reason, further than to say that "the American press is dirty and rotten," that "the American reporter is a blot on the journalistic escutcheon," and that "there's nothing in American journalism to admire and less to respect." Whereupon the Boston Advertiser denounces him as a boor, and other newspapers will write him down as a cad.

The difficulty here is due to a misunderstanding. Mr. Kipling doesn't understand the insinuating ways of our newspapers, and he is not disposed to make any compromise with things that are distasteful. The Americans have become so accustomed to invading the privacy of those who in one way or another have attracted public attention that they are inclined to view Mr. Kipling's protest with indignation. Yet, strip it of its momentary inflammation and add the saving quality of a grain of salt, and you have something left to think about. It is too broad and sweeping; it is petulant and childish; and yet it contains a note of criticism that is suggestive and timely.

Mr. Kipling told the reporter to write him down as a boor, and The Advertiser takes him at his word, and adds a special sting or two to the phrase. But to what end? That part of Mr. Kipling's personality in which alone the public has a right to be interested is not at all boorish. He's written three or four short stories of permanent interest and two dozen ballads that are surely the work of genius. If he fails to enjoy the American style of interviewing, that is his business. We have no doubt he could give sound reasons for his attitude, and if he fell short in this respect, we could furnish him some at second hand. If he is indignant because a reporter pesters him, some allowance must be made for education and temperament. We have observed that when Americans are indignant they do not mind their words, and now that Mr. Kipling, by a strange freak of fancy or grim humor has swapped India for the depressing climate of Vermont, we do not wonder that he is out of sorts.

We have here an example of British conceit running against American vanity, and we find it more interesting than disagreeable. At any rate, we cannot perceive why Americans or American newspapers should have duckfeet because Mr. Kipling, in the heat of his indignation, should criticize them. As a Green Mountain boy, he has a perfect right to his opinions. He is in a large and a free country, and as we have already seen, he will find reporters perfectly willing to inform the public that he led them to his front gate by their ears.

A Corporation with a Soul.

The action of the Southern Express Company in donating the sum of $1,000 for the support and education of the little sisters of the late Messenger Saunders is worthy of the highest praise.

Mr. Saunders, it will be recollected, was killed a few months ago in Florida, by a party of robbers, while he was protecting the money entrusted to his charge in the express car. He died at his post in the faithful discharge of his duty, and his employers are now taking care of the loved ones who were dependent upon him.

It is often said that corporations have no souls, but in this instance the Southern Express Company has shown a noble sense of the reciprocal duties and obligations existing between employers and their wage-earners. It is gratifying to see such illustrations of the brighter side of human nature, and it is safe to say that the money given to Messenger Saunders' sisters will be as good an investment as the donors ever made. The kind hearts back of this gift, and the cordial appreciation of a good man's faithful services so generously manifested will have a far-reaching effect. When employers are ready to stand by their men in the right way, even the humblest toiler feels encouraged to put in his best work, and, if need be, risk his life in defense of the interests committed to his care.

Tom Watson is now doing his best, according to all accounts, to get up a row. Nevertheless, ror or no row, he is defeated.

Thousands of republicans who have never voted a democratic ticket, will vote for Cleveland this time. The force bill and the McKinley laws are too much for them.

Brother Blaine admits that Mr. Cleveland is a pretty good protectionist. That's what becomes of the republican racket about free trade?

The Chicago Herald, which is neither nervous nor ill-tempered, flatly accuses John Sherman of telling lies in his speeches.

John will laugh in his flowing sleeve when he sees the announcement and wonder how the editor dropped on to him. Meanwhile he will continue to figure as The Boston Herald's greatest living American statesman.

Senator David B. Hill continues to lift up his voice behalf of democracy and the democratic candidates.

Robert Louis Stevenson is said to have organized a literary club in Samoa. What Samoa really needs is a chicken pie endeavor society.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

While George Washington was on a visit to York Hill, Conn., in 1783, says The New Haven Recorder, he dropped a visiting paper on the site of the old Moore house. It was of this fact colored that year, and a general search was made for it—albeit to no purpose.

The property changed hands a few weeks ago and the new owner began improvements. In throwing out the dirt next to the old foundation the old penny was unearthed.

We do not think that a single session of the legislature since the war has accomplished more for the cause of economic reform than was done by the last session. It is gratifying, also, to note the fact that the members of the new assembly represent constituents who are in thorough sympathy with the work of their predecessors on this line. Their time will be somewhat limited, but under the new conditions they will be able to accomplish within fifty days as much as was formerly done in the entire session of a hundred days or more.

The people's lawmakers who met here yesterday have assembled under the most favorable auspices. They are, in the main, men of high character and ability, and Georgia looks to them for many important reforms.

Is Kipling a Boor?

The Boston Advertiser has an article on "R. Kipling, Boor." The trouble with Kipling seems to be that he has views of his own, and is not in a hurry to cater to American conceit.

A few days ago the editor of a daily—we presume it was a New York daily—detailed reporter to interview Kipling at his home in Brattleboro, Vt. Kipling declined to be interviewed in language more forcible than polite, and refused to give any reason, further than to say that "the American press is dirty and rotten," that "the American reporter is a blot on the journalistic escutcheon," and that "there's nothing in American journalism to admire and less to respect."

Whereupon the Boston Advertiser denounces him as a boor, and other newspapers will write him down as a cad.

The difficulty here is due to a misunderstanding. Mr. Kipling doesn't understand the insinuating ways of our newspapers, and he is not disposed to make any compromise with things that are distasteful. The Americans have become so accustomed to invading the privacy of those who in one way or another have attracted public attention that they are inclined to view Mr. Kipling's protest with indignation. Yet, strip it of its momentary inflammation and add the saving quality of a grain of salt, and you have something left to think about. It is too broad and sweeping; it is petulant and childish; and yet it contains a note of criticism that is suggestive and timely.

Mr. Kipling told the reporter to write him down as a boor, and The Advertiser takes him at his word, and adds a special sting or two to the phrase. But to what end? That part of Mr. Kipling's personality in which alone the public has a right to be interested is not at all boorish. He's written three or four short stories of permanent interest and two dozen ballads that are surely the work of genius. If he fails to enjoy the American style of interviewing, that is his business. We have no doubt he could give sound reasons for his attitude, and if he fell short in this respect, we could furnish him some at second hand.

If he is indignant because a reporter pesters him, some allowance must be made for education and temperament. We have observed that when Americans are indignant they do not mind their words, and now that Mr. Kipling, by a strange freak of fancy or grim humor has swapped India for the depressing climate of Vermont, we do not wonder that he is out of sorts.

We have here an example of British conceit running against American vanity, and we find it more interesting than disagreeable. At any rate, we cannot perceive why Americans or American newspapers should have duckfeet because Mr. Kipling, in the heat of his indignation, should criticize them. As a Green Mountain boy, he has a perfect right to his opinions. He is in a large and a free country, and as we have already seen, he will find reporters perfectly willing to inform the public that he led them to his front gate by their ears.

A Corporation with a Soul.

The action of the Southern Express Company in donating the sum of $1,000 for the support and education of the little sisters of the late Messenger Saunders is worthy of the highest praise.

Mr. Saunders, it will be recollected, was killed a few months ago in Florida, by a party of robbers, while he was protecting the money entrusted to his charge in the express car. He died at his post in the faithful discharge of his duty, and his employers are now taking care of the loved ones who were dependent upon him.

It is often said that corporations have no souls, but in this instance the Southern Express Company has shown a noble sense of the reciprocal duties and obligations existing between employers and their wage-earners. It is gratifying to see such illustrations of the brighter side of human nature, and it is safe to say that the money given to Messenger Saunders' sisters will be as good an investment as the donors ever made. The kind hearts back of this gift, and the cordial appreciation of a good man's faithful services so generously manifested will have a far-reaching effect. When employers are ready to stand by their men in the right way, even the humblest toiler feels encouraged to put in his best work, and, if need be, risk his life in defense of the interests committed to his care.

A Corporation with a Soul.

The action of the Southern Express Company in donating the sum of $1,000 for the support and education of the little sisters of the late Messenger Saunders is worthy of the highest praise.

Mr. Saunders, it will be recollected, was killed a few months ago in Florida, by a party of robbers, while he was protecting the money entrusted to his charge in the express car. He died at his post in the faithful discharge of his duty, and his employers are now taking care of the loved ones who were dependent upon him.

It is often said that corporations have no souls, but in this instance the Southern Express Company has shown a noble sense of the reciprocal duties and obligations existing between employers and their wage-earners. It is gratifying to see such illustrations of the brighter side of human nature, and it is safe to say that the money given to Messenger Saunders' sisters will be as good an investment as the donors ever made. The kind hearts back of this gift, and the cordial appreciation of a good man's faithful services so generously manifested will have a far-reaching effect. When employers are ready to stand by their men in the right way, even the humblest toiler feels encouraged to put in his best work, and, if need be, risk his life in defense of the interests committed to his care.

A Corporation with a Soul.

The action of the Southern Express Company in donating the sum of $1,000 for the support and education of the little sisters of the late Messenger Saunders is worthy of the highest praise.

Mr. Saunders, it will be recollected, was killed a few months ago in Florida, by a party of robbers, while he was protecting the money entrusted to his charge in the express car. He died at his post in the faithful discharge of his duty, and his employers are now taking care of the loved ones who were dependent upon him.

It is often said that corporations have no souls, but in this instance the Southern Express Company has shown a noble sense of the reciprocal duties and obligations existing between employers and their wage-earners. It is gratifying to see such illustrations of the brighter side of human nature, and it is safe to say that the money given to Messenger Saunders' sisters will be as good an investment as the donors ever made. The kind hearts back of this gift, and the cordial appreciation of a good man's faithful services so generously manifested will have a far-reaching effect. When employers are ready to stand by their men in the right way, even the humblest toiler feels encouraged to put in his best work, and, if need be, risk his life in defense of the interests committed to his care.

A Corporation with a Soul.

The action of the Southern Express Company in donating the sum of $1,000 for the support and education of the little sisters of the late Messenger Saunders is worthy of the highest praise.

Mr. Saunders, it will be recollected, was killed a few months ago in Florida, by a party of robbers, while he was protecting the money entrusted to his charge in the express car. He died at his post in the faithful discharge of his duty, and his employers are now taking care of the loved ones who were dependent upon him.

It is often said that corporations have no souls, but in this instance the Southern Express Company has shown a noble sense of the reciprocal duties and obligations existing between employers and their wage-earners. It is gratifying to see such illustrations of the brighter side of human nature, and it is safe to say that the money given to Messenger Saunders' sisters will be as good an investment as the donors ever made. The kind hearts back of this gift, and the cordial appreciation of a good man's faithful services so generously manifested will have a far-reaching effect. When employers are ready to stand by their men in the right way, even the humblest toiler feels encouraged to put in his best work, and, if need be, risk his life in defense of the interests committed to his care.

A Corporation with a Soul.

The action of the Southern Express Company in donating the sum of $1,000 for the support and education of the little sisters of the late Messenger Saunders is worthy of the highest praise.

Mr. Saunders, it will be recollected, was killed a few months ago in Florida, by a party of robbers, while he was protecting the money entrusted to his charge in the express car. He died at his post in the faithful discharge of his duty, and his employers are now taking care of the loved ones who were dependent upon him.

It is often said that corporations have no souls, but in this instance the Southern Express Company has shown a noble sense of the reciprocal duties and obligations existing between employers and their wage-earners. It is gratifying to see such illustrations of the brighter side of human nature, and it is safe to say that the money given to Messenger Saunders' sisters will be as good an investment as the donors ever made. The kind hearts back of this gift, and the cordial appreciation of a good man's faithful services so generously manifested will have a far-reaching effect. When employers are ready to stand by their men in the right way, even the humblest toiler feels encouraged to put in his best work, and, if need be, risk his life in defense of the interests committed to his care.

A Corporation with a Soul.

The action of the Southern Express Company in donating the sum of $1,000 for the support and education of the little sisters of the late Messenger Saunders is worthy of the highest praise.

Mr. Saunders, it will be recollected, was killed a few months ago in Florida, by a party of rob

OF ERRORS

Having Barrels of Fun
Candidates.

ANT ON THEIR HANDS

Been Trying to Dispose in Camp Yesterday.

Endorsed.

this fifth congressional like the man the cometh an elephant on hisan elephant, and a big days in the short
date, and what to do men can't decide fordate who can neither know what to do
been lying awake in some way to get rid the elephant in the house is staying qual-
like as a cigar not get away, after worse, Mr. Talifathers who have party circles—who stand say that Mr. Taliface. There's the snag and Tali-fathers aretime has been in the
with a campaign that all—and Dr. J. H.
we felt for some days
needed a third party that could make aand other longing op-
pots that broadcloth,
speaker and candidate had been nominated in the existing order of highly denouncing the ideal candidate.

look at Mr. Tali-

on his farm saying usings making things

tion Called.

tion. These days a is about as dead a

up, but that conventions and Mr. Irwin, a assembled yesterday,

tively affair.

that Candidate Tali-

ding, but those who

Mr. Tali-fathers are were delegates

in the district. There

we here for expression of the members wonder-

to do no members

no crowd. Such fac-

s of Douglas, Irwin,

and Griffin, of Fulton,

Perhaps they were the rough face of the part of the operation

on the altar and a small was wait-

anticipation of what chamber where the

were closed and what

gathered in a general

S. Livesey.

which all hands seem that there was a

too. Somebody—it

Boggett, now—moved that committee of the third

where the conven-beng. Some of the north star winks

to long would Hon.

and been nominated

of the fellows

Campbell, etc., and such so-

had. If one of

had been in the easy trying to keep say, and the under-

would have the operation was

this: There was that wanted Mr.

moreover they had

so as to be ready

until Mr. Tali-

the out and give way to the members, which he would be done by Judge Milner, of the Bolton.

o'clock noon. If when a big per-

came tramping out and shouting the

Tali-fathers men-

the chairman,

and there were

upstairs convention

wasn't far off, for

Mr. Dr. Tali-

hadn't recovered his

and the eight

Dr. Grinnell.

the long con-

on the part of the

to select a man

candidates to divide

in the third party if

Sam Small has between Dr.

may be inferred from

to the Constitution

Dr. Grinnell that for my congressional opponents are the

over-estimated the

in absolute and will

SAM W. SMALL

Says.

a long conversation

and I

I

had been

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

I

ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Alderman.
I announce myself a candidate for alderman from the north side, subject to the primary, November 14th. Being compelled to look after my business during the campaign it will be impossible for me personally to see all the worthy citizens, and therefore, must ask my friends, whom they consider my past actions worthy of their confidence, to look after my interests. J. C. HENDRICK.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for alderman from the city at large, subject to the ensuing primary of November 14th.

ARNOLD BROTHES.

The friends of Phil H. Harlan announce him as a candidate for alderman, subject to nomination by such method as may be suggested by the executive committee.

September 22. FOUTH WARD.

A regular communication of Atlanta Lodge, No. 59, F. and A. M. will be held in Masonic hall, Old Capitol Building, on the 21st instant, at 8 P.M. (G. M. T.) evening. Work in the Entered Apprentice degree. Masons duly qualified are formally invited to attend.

L. D. CARPENTER, Worshipful Master.

Z. B. MOON, Secretary.

MEETINGS.

The Georgia State Board of Pharmacy will meet in Atlanta November 14th in the capitol to examine candidates for druggists' license. For further information, address Dr. W. C. T. U.

The Georgia State Board of Pharmacy will meet in Atlanta November 14th in the capitol to examine candidates for druggists' license. For further information, address Dr. W. C. T. U.

The Georgia State Board of Pharmacy will meet in Atlanta November 14th in the capitol to examine candidates for druggists' license. For further information, address Dr. W. C. T. U.

JOHN STEPHENS, Jackson Street.

For Councilman.

I am a candidate for councilman from the first ward subject to the nomination of the primary to be held November 14th.

J. L. C. KERR.

The friends of Mr. John J. Callahan announce him as a candidate for council from the first ward, subject to the primary of November 14th.

M. W. WELCH.

By consent, the many friends of Abe F. Pounds hereby announce him a candidate for councilman from the second ward.

REGISTERED VOTERS.

H. C. Stockdell is a candidate for council from the second ward, subject to the primary, November 14th.

M. MAHONEY.

This is to notify my friends that I am now a candidate for councilman from the third ward. Respectfully, JOHN L. MELL.

THIRD WARD.

By solicitation of many of my friends I hereby announce myself as candidate for councilman from the third ward. Thanking you for your support. Respectfully,

C. W. MANGUM.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for council from the third ward, subject to the democratic primary of November 14th.

ZACK H. SMITH.

The friends of Mr. J. A. Fischer hereby announce him as a candidate for councilman from the third ward, subject to the primary of November 14th.

D. A. BEATTIE.

I respectfully announce myself a candidate for the council from the third ward.

FRANK C. WHEAT.

I am a candidate for councilman from the third ward, subject to democratic primary November 14th.

B. H. KLINE.

FOURTH WARD.

The friends of S. A. MORRIS announce him as a candidate to represent the fourth ward, subject to the primary on the 14th of November.

d-d

FIFTH WARD.

To the Voters of Atlanta: I respectfully announce myself as candidate for councilman from the fifth ward.

CHARLES F. TYLER.

I announce myself as candidate for council from the fifth ward, subject to the primary.

JOHN H. WELCH.

I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for the council from the fifth ward, subject to the primary November 14, 1892.

ZACK MARTIN.

I HEREBY announce myself a candidate for council from the fifth ward, subject to democratic primary November 14th. B. F. McDuffie.

oct23d

SIXTH WARD.

To the Voters of Atlanta: I am a candidate for councilman from the sixth ward, subject to the primary, November 14th. B. F. McDuffie. Please to vote my vote and influence. Very respectfully, S. FRANK WARREN.

At the solicitation of friends I am a candidate for councilman of the sixth ward at primary, November 14th, G. G. Roy, October 22nd, 1892.

At the solicitation of a number of friends and fellow tax payers, I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for councilman from the sixth ward.

EDWARD C. PETERS.

For Sheriff.

To the Voters of Atlanta: I am a candidate for the office of sheriff of Fulton county, subject to the democratic nomination. I do not to think my friends who have voluntarily supported me, those whom I feel sure will give me the benefit of their influence after seeing me, will be disappointed. I do not appreciate the support of all good citizens, and if selected for the office pledge my best efforts for the faithful and impartial discharge of the duties of the same.

A. G. HOWARD.

For Coroner.

To the Voters of Fulton County: I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for the office of coroner, subject to the action of the executive committee, and to solicit your vote and influence. To my great misfortune I have been sick several months, but for the past month I have performed all the duties of the office, and my health is constantly improving. Yours truly BEN J. DAVIS.

I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for coroner for Fulton county, subject to the action of the democratic party.

A. N. COX.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of coroner of Fulton county, subject to the democratic nomination. I am held, as a confederate soldier and lost my right leg in battles besides being wounded three times. JOHN M. PADEN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Candidates for office will find the Constitution job office equipped with a large force of printers and prepared on short notice to fill orders for cards, tickets, etc. Patronage appreciated.

NOTICE.

To the Voters of Fulton County

Georgia.—The board of revisers of the registration lists of said county will meet in the county seat of Fulton, Georgia, on the 27th, 28th, 29th, and 30th of October next, for the purpose of revising said lists as provided by law. October 25, 1892.

W. L. CALHOUN.

Ordinary and Chairman.

A. P. STEWART.

Registrar.

T. M. ARMSTRONG.

Tax Receiver.

Board of Revisers.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

JETT.—The friends and acquaintances of Mr. Al W. Jett are invited to attend his funeral from the residence of J. B. Jett, 207 Peachtree avenue, Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment at Hollywood cemetery.

MEETINGS.

The Georgia State Board of Pharmacy will meet in Atlanta November 14th in the capitol to examine candidates for druggists' license. For further information, address Dr. W. C. T. U.

A regular communication of Atlanta Lodge, No. 59, F. and A. M. will be held in Masonic hall, Old Capitol Building, on the 21st instant, at 8 P.M. (G. M. T.) evening. Work in the Entered Apprentice degree. Masons duly qualified are formally invited to attend.

L. D. CARPENTER, Worshipful Master.

Z. B. MOON, Secretary.

THE W. C. T. U.

Will our sisters of the South Side, West Side, and Old Atlanta, members, please notice that on Friday, November 14th, 1892, in the time of our quarterly conference of Union, and that it meets with the Jenkins Smith unit, at St. John's church at 3 P.M. on that day. Thanksgiving afternoon. Please as many as possible be present.

MRS. E. C. WITTER, President.

sept23d

FIRST WARD.

I am a candidate for councilman from the first ward subject to the nomination of the primary to be held November 14th.

J. L. C. KERR.

The friends of Mr. John J. Callahan announce him as a candidate for council from the first ward, subject to the primary of November 14th.

d-d

SECOND WARD.

Having repeatedly declined, I have finally, at the pressing solicitation of many citizens, representing various classes, to become a candidate for city council from the second ward, subject to primary November 14th. Being in the race I am, of course, ambitious to succeed, and respectfully request the support of my fellow citizens.

M. W. WELCH.

By consent, the many friends of Abe F. Pounds hereby announce him a candidate for councilman from the second ward.

REGISTERED VOTERS.

H. C. Stockdell is a candidate for council from the second ward, subject to the primary, November 14th.

M. MAHONEY.

This is to notify my friends that I am now a candidate for councilman from the third ward. Respectfully, JOHN L. MELL.

THIRD WARD.

By solicitation of many of my friends I hereby announce myself as candidate for councilman from the third ward. Thanking you for your support. Respectfully,

C. W. MANGUM.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for council from the third ward, subject to the democratic primary of November 14th.

ZACK H. SMITH.

The friends of Mr. J. A. Fischer hereby announce him as a candidate for councilman from the third ward, subject to the primary of November 14th.

D. A. BEATTIE.

I respectfully announce myself a candidate for the council from the third ward.

FRANK C. WHEAT.

I am a candidate for councilman from the third ward, subject to democratic primary November 14th.

B. H. KLINE.

FOURTH WARD.

The friends of S. A. MORRIS announce him as a candidate to represent the fourth ward, subject to the primary on the 14th of November.

d-d

FIFTH WARD.

To the Voters of Atlanta: I respectfully announce myself as candidate for councilman from the fifth ward.

CHARLES F. TYLER.

I announce myself as candidate for council from the fifth ward, subject to the primary.

JOHN H. WELCH.

I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for the council from the fifth ward, subject to the primary November 14, 1892.

ZACK MARTIN.

I HEREBY announce myself a candidate for council from the fifth ward, subject to democratic primary November 14th. B. F. McDuffie.

oct23d

SIXTH WARD.

To the Voters of Atlanta: I am a candidate for councilman from the sixth ward, subject to the primary, November 14th. B. F. McDuffie. Please to vote my vote and influence. Very respectfully, S. FRANK WARREN.

At the solicitation of friends I am a candidate for councilman of the sixth ward at primary, November 14th, G. G. Roy, October 22nd, 1892.

At the solicitation of a number of friends and fellow tax payers, I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for councilman from the sixth ward.

EDWARD C. PETERS.

For Sheriff.

To the Voters of Atlanta: I am a candidate for the office of sheriff of Fulton county, subject to the democratic nomination. I do not to think my friends who have voluntarily supported me, those whom I feel sure will give me the benefit of their influence after seeing me, will be disappointed. I do not appreciate the support of all good citizens, and if selected for the office pledge my best efforts for the faithful and impartial discharge of the duties of the same.

A. G. HOWARD.

For Coroner.

To the Voters of Fulton County: I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for the office of coroner, subject to the action of the executive committee, and to solicit your vote and influence. To my great misfortune I have been sick several months, but for the past month I have performed all the duties of the office, and my health is constantly improving. Yours truly BEN J. DAVIS.

I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for coroner for Fulton county, subject to the action of the democratic party.

A. N. COX.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of coroner of Fulton county, subject to the democratic nomination. I am held, as a confederate soldier and lost my right leg in battles besides being wounded three times. JOHN M. PADEN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Candidates for office will find the Constitution job office equipped with a large force of printers and prepared on short notice to fill orders for cards, tickets, etc. Patronage appreciated.

NOTICE.

To the Voters of Fulton County

Georgia.—The board of revisers of the registration lists of said county will meet in the county seat of Fulton, Georgia, on the 27th, 28th, 29th, and 30th of October next, for the purpose of revising said lists as provided by law. October 25, 1892.

W. L. CALHOUN.

Ordinary and Chairman.

A. P. STEWART.

Registrar.

T. M. ARMSTRONG.

Tax Receiver.

Board of Revisers.

The following are statements of the consolidated net receipts, expense and stock at the ports:

RECEIPTS	EXPENSES	NET STOCK
1892	1891	1892
Sept. 25	25	25
Oct. 1	1	1
Oct. 2	2	2
Oct.

